

The figure displays a 60x60 grid representing the spatial distribution of 1000 data points. The grid is predominantly white, indicating zero density. Gray squares represent the presence of data points. The distribution is sparse and irregular, with notable horizontal bands of higher density in the upper and lower portions of the grid. A few black squares are scattered throughout, with one prominent black square in the upper left and another in the lower right.

Days Post-Injury