

The figure is a sparse matrix plot representing relationships between 60 variables. The x and y axes are both labeled from 0 to 60. Black bars indicate non-zero entries. The plot shows a block-like structure with several clusters of variables having non-zero relationships, including a large cluster at the top left, a vertical cluster on the left, and several smaller clusters scattered throughout.

0 10 20 30 60