

The visualization shows a 10x60 grid where each square represents a data point. The grid is filled with gray squares, with a few black squares indicating specific data points. The distribution is sparse, with most data points concentrated in the first 10 columns and a few scattered points in the remaining columns.

0 10 20 30 60